

MANY VESSELS LOST IN STORM ON LAKES

STEAMER REGINA IS GIVEN UP AS LOST—SEVERAL BODIES FLOAT ASHORE.

WRECKAGE IDENTIFIED

Crew of Northern Queen Safe at Port Franks—Steamer Stranded on Beach at Kettle Point.

Port Huron, Nov. 12.—As if to warn other vessels to keep their distance, the Lake Huron today lashed itself into a sea so rife it is probable that at least another day will pass before the identity of the overturned steamer, a few miles northeast of here will be definitely known.

The tug Sport with a diver aboard visited the wreck this forenoon, but the waves were rolling ten and twelve feet high and it was impossible for the diver to get close.

The revenue cutter Morrill was also compelled to stand helplessly by. The diver will be sent out again tomorrow.

The captains of the tug, the revenue cutter and the life-saving crew all believe that the wreck is that of the steamer of the Merchants' Transportation company of Toronto. An official of the Merchants' Transportation company, however, who has visited the wreck, does not agree with them.

Earlier Reports.

Although many vessels are firm in their belief that the steamer which turned turtle in Lake Huron, a few miles northeast of here, is the big gale, the Merchants' Transportation company, of Toronto, others are equally convinced this forenoon that she is not. It is regarded as a possibility that the Revenue cutter Morrill was the vessel. The difference of opinion concerning the identity of the overturned vessel, is due to the fact that the overturned hull of the vessel is reported as being black and the Regina is said to have had a green bottom.

One official representing the owners of the Regina has visited the scene of the wreck and he does not believe that it is the Regina. A theory borne by many is that there was a collision between the unidentified vessel and the Regina, that the latter was immediately abandoned and the Regina's crew, who were on board here to this belief think that the wreck of the Regina will be found in another place.

The wreck of the Regina was seen from the shore yesterday when ten bodies were found strewn on the beach at the Little Canadian fishing village of Port Franks, 30 miles northeast of Sarnia. A small boat, an open boat and a life boat, lying on the shore, and scattered along the beach were other wreckage and cargo identified as Regina.

Shortly after the discovery of the wreckage of the Regina, the wrecked and battered steamer North Star was found stranded on the beach above Kettle Point. Her entire crew of twenty-two men, however, are safe at Port Franks.

For barley, 28 cents for butter, $1.75 a ton; for hay, $3 per hundred; for cattle, $2.50 per hundred; for sheep, $2.50 a bushel for clover seed; and 50 cents a bushel for apples. The average price for the same products throughout the United States are as follows: Wheat, 84 cents; corn, 32.6 cents; barley, 23.5 cents; potatoes, 45.5 cents; eggs, 25.9 cents; butter, 26.9 cents; hay, $11.80; hogs, $7.00; beef cattle, $5.35; clover seed, $2.90; alfalfa, 61.6 cents.

Barre Sunk.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 12.—It was reported here today that the bark Plymouth went down in Sunday's storm near the entrance of Greer Bay. She had seven men on board. This wreck is the one which the revenue cutter Tuscarora is investigating.

Seek Identity.

The tug Sport with a diver aboard left this forenoon to attempt to identify the overturned vessel. If the diver can work in the sea, which is quite high, it is expected that a definite identification will soon be obtained. The revenue cutter Morrill and member of the life-saving crew are still standing by the wreck.

Leaflet Lost.

Port William, Ont., Nov. 12.—Fears were expressed for the steamer Leaflet grounded on Angus Island beyond Thunder Cape. Tug, T. Horne made two trips out but was unable to find any trace of the Leaflet. The Marine and Customs officers are now searching for the vessel. The steamer was loaded with steel rails.

The Leaflet was a steel boat of 2,000 tons capacity. The Leaflet was four days overdue here and had not been reported since leaving the Soo. She carried a crew of 18 men.

Other Vessels.

The steamer Nottingham is aground on Persian Island, 20 miles from Whitefish Bay. Her bottom is gone. The tugboat Nottingham is owned by the Great Lakes Transportation Company of Cleveland. Gross tonnage 4,235 tons.

The Canadian Pacific Railroad steamer Alberta, which has lain for four days at anchor at Whitefish Bay, arrived this morning, as did the Huron, which was on a sand bar at Whitefish Bay two days.

On Lake Michigan.

Neenah and Carter, loaded with grain and coal, have been unable to reach Calumet harbor on the shore of Lake Michigan for several days owing to the terrific gale. The Thistle is ashore off Calumet harbor and the Carter anchored off Brothertown. The Thistle was destined for Green Bay. Off Canadian Shore.

Goederich, Ont., Nov. 12.—Reports from points along the Canadian shore of Lake Huron point to a heavy loss of life and shipping in the recent storm. Seven bodies from the schooner Charles S. White have come ashore today. The bodies are being taken to the local hospital.

Wreckage found here indicates that the James Caruthers, the largest Canadian freighter on the lakes, has been lost.

Old Timer Missing.

Port Huron, Ont., Nov. 12.—Fears were entertained today that the steam barge Butters and her crew of 20, have been lost between here and a point on the south shore 150 miles from here.

The Butters is one of the old timers on the upper lakes. She is of wood

GRANT NEW HEARING TO SUPERIOR WOMAN

Whole Matter of Award of Indus- trial Commission to Minnie Lawrence Will Be Re- Opened.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—Another hearing will be granted by the industrial commission in the case of Minnie Lawrence of Superior, whose award of $1,200 was set aside by the circuit court yesterday. Nine days before the death of her former husband she was awarded a pension of $1,200. Under the decision of the court it is indicated that a divorced father is liable for the care and support of his minor children, when the divorce decree makes no provision for their support. It now seems probable that no award will be given to Minnie Lawrence, but it is possible that an award may be made to the dependent children.

The whole case will be opened up anew, said Chairman Crownhart today. "Originally this case was made the subject of an award upon a stipulation. It is now evident that no award will be made. The industrial commission will be taken as a basis for further action by the commission."

ALLEGED MURDERER ATTACKS ATTORNEY

Henry Spencer, Accused of Taking Life of Mrs. Rexroat, Insists on Quick Conviction.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Nov. 12.—Henry Spencer, alleged murderer of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat, grew more violent in his attack on Attorney Andrew Zeigler, striking his attorney, Andrew Zeigler, twice in the face. Zeigler was examining the last man needed to fill the jury box when Spencer exclaimed: "Aw, cut it out; I'll accept him."

Zeigler warned his client to be quiet at which the latter attacked him. The court is without means of controlling the prisoner, who insists on a quick conviction and an early hanging.

The jury was completed before noon and State's Attorney Hadley began his opening address.

MURDERER TO PLEAD THE UNWRITTEN LAW

Wife of Marinette Man, Accused of Slaying Cousin, to Take Stand in His Defense.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Marinette, Wis., Nov. 12.—Circuit court convened here today for the trial of the most important case of the season. The case is that of Joseph Ellery, charged with the murder of his cousin, Louis Ellery. He will plead the unwritten law and it is said his wife will take the stand and tell of her relations with the dead man in an effort to save her husband. All are residents of Hermansville, Michigan, and are prominent.

SERIOUS FIRE LOSS IN A VERMONT TOWN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—Today's session of the Anti-Saloon League national convention was to be known as governor's day. The program for the day was a series of addresses by Governors Hanna of North Dakota and Jodges of Kansas.

Former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson of Tennessee was to be the principal speaker at the afternoon session.

PROF. JONES TO ADDRESS EADGER POTATO GROWERS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—The control and eradication of potato diseases will be the subject of an address to be made by Prof. L. R. Jones of the university before the Wisconsin Potato Growers' Association, which meets at Rhineland, Nov. 20. During the past year Prof. Jones has been making a special study of the subject.

FOUR HUNDRED FARMERS AT POTATO INSTITUTE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Marinette, Nov. 12.—The Marinette County Potato Institute is being held at Wausaukee today with 400 farmers present from all parts of the county. Cash premiums will be awarded for various exhibits. Prof. Milward of the state agricultural college is the principal speaker. Marinette county will ship over 600,000 bushels of potatoes, being one of the largest producers of tubers in the state.

LADY RANDOLPH CHURCHILL CHRISTENS A DREADNAUGHT

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Nov. 12.—Lady Randolph Churchill, formerly Miss Jennie Jerome, christened the new dreadnaught, the launching of the new dreadnaught, Benbow, at Dalmuir. Her son, Winston Churchill, who is first lord of the Admiralty, also was present. The Benbow will displace 20,000 tons and is designed to be one of the most powerful vessels afloat. Thousands of people witnessed the launching ceremonies and cheered wildly as the great ship was taken to life and plunged into the water.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR A RESUMPTION OF STREET TRAFFIC

City of Cleveland Recovering From Effects of Recent Storm— Vessels Clear Port.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Cleveland, O., Nov. 12.—As the day progressed prospects for a speedy resumption of normal street car traffic were bright and it was said that the railroad men would establish communication with the outside world on a basis approaching much nearer to scheduled time than yesterday. Bright sunshine, weather prevailed and the slight thawing of the streets pointed to a thaw of the sort that would assist the work of restoration. In the city this morning the Detroit avenue line, one of the great traffic arteries of the city, and a few cross town lines were kept out of commission. Hundreds of laborers were at work clearing the tracks, however, and the reopening was only a matter of hours. Vessels were able to clear Cleveland port and a few tug boats and tug owners were on the lookout for traces of wrecks on Lake Erie. While the railroads, street car line and interurban systems are approaching ordinary conditions of operation, the companies will not be able to restore their lines completely for weeks and perhaps even months.

ELEVEN LOSE LIVES WHEN VESSEL SINKS

Part of Crew of Italian Bark Elvo Drowned When Vessel Strikes Hidden Rock.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Lisbon, Nov. 12.—Eleven of the crew of the Italian bark Elvo were drowned when their vessel sank to day in deep water after striking a rock in the mouth of the River Mira while maneuvering to avoid a collision with another ship. Only three members of the crew were rescued. Of these being John Claset, a Californian.

WILL NAME PINDELL RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR

Peoria Man to Be Nominated Despite Correspondence Between Him and Senator Lewis.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 12.—Henry N. Pindell, Peoria, Ill., publisher, will be nominated for ambassador to Russia and the recently published correspondence which was alleged to have passed between him and Senator Lewis will not influence the president's decision.

FOUR NEGRO BANDITS TERRORIZE CHICAGO

Hold Up Men and Women on West and Southwest Sides of City— Make Several Raids.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Nov. 12.—Four negro bandits, one wearing a silk hat and a fur coat, terrorized the west and southwest sides of the city today by holding up men and women on the streets and boarding street cars and robbing passengers. The negroes committed six robberies, obtaining small sums of money from each of their victims. The police believe the robbers are waiters. A dozen detectives are searching for the men.

MICHIGAN SUNDAY SCHOOLS MEET IN BENTON HARBOR

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 12.—Many delegates and visitors are here attending the annual convention of the Michigan State Sunday School Association. The reports of officers and committees show gratifying gains in the number of Sabbath schools and membership throughout the state. The convention will continue over tomorrow and Friday. Mrs. Mary Potter Bryner and Marion Lawrence of the international association, head the list of speakers.

PAMPHLET SHOWS CHANGES IN INHERITANCE TAX LAW

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—The inheritance tax law was changed in some of its more important provisions at the last session of the legislature. The new law has been reissued in the law in bulletin form for distribution. The pamphlet includes as an appendix notes of the opinions and rulings of the tax commission on the more common matters that are likely to arise. There are also added some suggestions relating to special administration and to the notice to be given to the tax commission and public administrator. The report shows that upwards of $4,000,000 has been collected in revenues under this law since its enactment in 1904. Up to June 30, 1912, the amount of $3,250,000 had been produced and during the past year over three-quarters of a million dollars were received.

SET GUNS IN ORCHARD: LIE TO HEAVY PENALTY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—Set guns to protect your apple crop are prohibited by law, punishable by a heavy penalty. This opinion was given by Attorney General Walter G. Owen to E. P. Gorman, district attorney of Marathon county. In the letter to the attorney general, the district attorney says that a man set a gun in his orchard to protect some apples and a boy was shot as a result and subsequently died. The district attorney desired to know if the man who set the gun could be prosecuted for manslaughter and the attorney general held that he could.

G. A. R. CAMPFIRE HELD BY MILTON POST TUESDAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milton, Nov. 12.—The G. A. R. campfire last evening was a great success, both as to entertainment and finances. A number from out of town were in attendance and most of the community. After the feast of good things had been served by the ladies of the G. A. R. the following program was presented: Addresses by Rev. E. W. Schoenfeld of Edgerton and Mrs. E. C. Grinnell of Beloit. A reading by Prof. L. H. Stringer: Flag Song by children under the direction of Miss Katherine Cole, and selections by the Sons of Veterans Quartette.

NO SIGN OF REVOLT AT GOMPERS' REGIME

Conservative Policies Uppermost in Seattle Meeting of Federation of Labor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Seattle, Nov. 12.—The first business before the convention of the American Federation of Labor today was the report of the fraternal delegates to the British Union congress. The peace overtures of the Reid faction of the International Brotherhood of the Electrical Workers proposing that the officers of both regulars and seceders resign and a reorganization be effected, were welcomed by a majority of the delegates who are weary of the long fight between the factions. There is still no sign of the threatened revolt against the Gompers regime and the conservative policies pursued by it.

Secretary of Labor W. B. Wilson addressed the convention today.

COLONEL A. BRODIE RETIRED FROM ARMY

One of Best Known Officers in United States Army—Was Adjutant General Until Recently.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Col. Alexander O. Brodie, one of the best known officers of the army, will be placed on the retired list tomorrow. Until recently Col. Brodie filled the post of adjutant general of the Western department, with headquarters at San Francisco. After his graduation from West point in 1870 he was assigned to the First Cavalry, with which regiment he remained until he resigned from the army in 1877. During these seven years he was an active participant in the Indian wars in the West.

TEN TOWNS WRECKED BY PERU EARTHQUAKE

Several Hundred Lives Believed to Have Been Lost—Survivors Suffer Great Privations.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Lima, Peru, Nov. 12.—Ten towns were destroyed and several hundred persons killed in an earthquake which occurred last Friday in the mountainous Peruvian province of Ayacucho. News of the disaster came by courier.

A number of known dead was 120 when the courier left the devastated district, but it was believed that several hundred more bodies would be recovered from the wrecked towns.

The survivors are living in the open places and are suffering great privations. The government has forwarded a large quantity of provisions and has appropriated a relief fund.

SHERIFF ENTERTAINS ROCK COUNTY BOARD

Gives Chicken Dinner to Members, County and City Officers and Friends.

Sheriff and Mrs. C. S. Whipple entertained at a chicken dinner at the jail this noon, the members of the Rock county board, the county and city officers and friends. More than sixty were seated at long tables set in the Sheriff's residential quarters and were served a sumptuous four course meal that almost defied the guests into believing that it was Thanksgiving Day. The sheriff tried to remark that if the sheriff dined his prisoners as well as his guests Judge Maxfield would have to hold night sessions of the municipal court to meet the overflow of prisoners who attended the dinner he gave today.

NATIONAL MUNICIPAL LEAGUE CONVENTION AT TORONTO

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Toronto, Ont., Nov. 12.—Many delegates gathered in Toronto today for the nineteenth annual convention of the National Municipal League of the United States. It is the first time that the organization has met in Canada and the delegates plan to spend considerable time in learning how Canadian cities are doing with municipal problems that are common to the cities of both countries. A special Canadian session will be held Friday, at which Hon. Adam Beck will tell of the hydro-electric power system and J. F. Beer will explain what the province and city are doing to improve housing conditions. Other speakers will be heard on the details of the municipal system in Ontario.

ALL-AMERICAN ATHLETES SAIL FOR AUSTRALIA

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Templeton, of the Olympic A. C. of San Francisco, who will do the middle, high jump, broad jump and pole vault; and E. J. Connelley, of the Utah, California, who is a shotputter and weight-thrower.

NATIONAL GRANGERS MEET IN MANCHESTER

National Master Oliver Wilson of Peoria Delivers Annual Ad- dress—To Discuss Legis- lation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Manchester, N. H., Nov. 12.—Sturdy American farmers with their wives and daughters were the honored guests of Manchester today on the occasion of the opening of the forty-seventh annual meeting of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, in whose ranks are enrolled more than 1,000,000 of the most practical agricultural experts in the world.

State and city officials and many of the representative citizens of New England are gathered to do honor to the visitors, whose work for the education of the American farmer has been recognized and paid tribute by leading statesmen and industrial men of the United States.

This morning was devoted to the organization of the convention. At the afternoon session Oliver Wilson of Peoria, Ill., national master delivered his annual address and reports were presented by the other officers. The remainder of the week will be given over largely to the conferring of delegates.

The business sessions will last ten days or two weeks. The relations of the currency bill to the farmer will be a leading topic of discussion. The convention will be a banquet next week in honor of the officers and delegates. Several speakers of national prominence will be heard at the banquet.

HALE IS CONFERRING WITH GEN. CARRANZA

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SHOWS FIRST INTEREST IN CONSTITUTIONALIST CAUSE.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 12.—Conferences now being held between William Baird Hale and Gen. Venustiano Carranza at Nogales are interpreted in official circles here as the first move by the United States government to show its interest in the constitutionalist movement in Mexico.

No officials commented today on Mr. Hale's exact status, but on a previous occasion when he spent three months in Mexico City gathering information, President Wilson let it be known that Mr. Hale was there as his personal friend. Hale transmitted reports, however, and took part in conferences with John Lind and Rear Admiral Fletcher.

BEARS ON NEW POLICY

Little Doubt Exists in Diplomatic Circles that Mr. Hale's Conference with Carranza is a Move to Recog- nition, but might be an important factor in determining the future attitude of the Washington government to- ward the constitutionalists.

There is also possibility that the information he gathered here is being used to the state department in its exchanges with foreign diplomats here. There were no announcements here today as to future steps in the American policy.

HOLD A CONFERENCE ON SAFETY AT SEA

Fourteen Great Nations Represented by Delegates at International Meeting in London.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Nov. 12.—Fourteen great nations are represented by delegates in the International Conference on Safety at Sea which opened its session here today. The conference, the first of its kind, is being held in the city of London, and the proceedings of this conference, and the general public and the press, indicates the importance attached to this gathering. It is the first time that a general understanding between the maritime nations of the world concerning the necessity of certain laws and their enforcement has been reached. The necessity of a delegation representing the United States will undoubtedly take a prominent part in the proceedings. The United States government had a large share in the activity which led to the calling of this conference, and will undoubtedly take the initiative in proposing some important suggestions for the consideration of the delegates.

The conference was called for the purpose of considering general principles of safety at sea, the manning of lifeboats, the efficiency of crews, the prevention of fire, the introduction of wireless outfits on sea going vessels and other matters having a direct or indirect bearing on safety at sea. The necessity of having a sufficient number of lifeboats and safety appliances on board of a big ship was forcibly demonstrated by the Titanic disaster. The conference is expected to be a most successful one, and will undoubtedly have a large influence on the future of maritime law and regulations.

AMERICAN SAILORS RECEIVED BY POPE

Bluejackets From Atlantic Fleet Are Given Audience by His Holiness.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, Nov. 12.—A large party of American bluejackets was received this morning in private audience by Pope Pius. The men were conducted by the Vatican by Captain William J. Maxwell of the battleship Florida and were presented to his holiness by Thomas P. Kennedy, rector of the American college in Rome.

The reception was held in the papal apartments. The pope was robed in white and was accompanied by the major domo of the Vatican and a detachment of Swiss guards. He spoke with the American officers and imparted to them and to all the men the apostolic benediction. As the sailors left the hall they gave three cheers for the pope.

ROBBERY WAS MOTIVE OF MURDER MRS. GAY

Theory Unfolded by Prosecution in Trial of Burr Harris, Who Confesses to Crime.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Los Angeles, Nov. 12.—Robbery, not maniacal impulse, prompted the murder of Mrs. Rebecca E. Gay, a Christian Science practitioner of this city, according to the theory of the prosecution unfolded today in the trial of Burr Harris, a young Negro, who confessed to the crime. Attorneys for Harris have set up a plan of temporary insanity for their client.

Witnesses were called today to identify Harris as the man seen about Mrs. Gay's office before the murder, and Mrs. Fannie McCall, the murdered woman's sister, identified the man, which the state contends Harris looted of $50 after taking it from the body of his victim.

GREAT DEVASTATION WAS CAUSED BY WAR

WILL TAKE MANY YEARS FOR THE BALKAN NATIONS TO EFFECT RECOVERY.

SOLDIERS FACE FAMINE

Vice Consul Ralph F. Chesbrough of Beirut Gives Informing Address—Horace McElroy Praises Turk.

That most of the Balkan states were so crippled financially by the recent war against Turkey and among themselves that they would probably not be able to resume hostilities if they so desired was the statement made last evening by Vice Consul General Ralph F. Chesbrough of Beirut, Turkey, and for two years in the consular service at Constantinople, in an address on "The Bulgarian War and the New Map of Europe" before the Twilight Club last evening.

The devastation caused by the war was very appalling, said the speaker. No crops were grown or harvested for an entire year and the returning soldiers almost faced famine. Greece appears to have suffered least from the war. Mr. Chesbrough spent several days in Greece while returning to this country, and outside of the large number of soldiers to be seen there was little evidence of the effects of the recent struggles. Loans totaling from seven to eight hundred million dollars are being sought by the Balkan states in order to tide them over until their agriculture and industries have recovered.

Mr. Chesbrough spoke in an informal manner, but presented a great array of interesting facts and illuminating sidelights from his personal experiences and observations. Beginning with an outline of the organization of the diplomatic and consular service and the manifold duties of the consular service, he traced the history of Turkey and the Balkan countries and the various events that led up to the formation of the Balkan Alliance and the late war against Turkey. With maps before him he depicted the campaigns, following them up to the present time.

Refusal of Turkey to put into immediate effect the provisions of the twenty-third article of the treaty of Berlin, that guaranteed the autonomy of Macedonia and other important reforms, was the chief cause and immediate provocation to the war against Turkey, explained the speaker. Turkey had long anticipated a possible coalition of the Balkan states and had tried to prevent it by concessions and other means. At the beginning of the war she had a standing army of about 700,000 men, almost as many as the rest of the countries combined. Bulgaria, which has an area about equal to that of New Jersey and a population of 2,500,000 had a standing army of 250,000 soldiers. Serbia, with an area similar to that of Ohio and 3,000,000 people, had an army of 200,000. Bulgaria was able to put 350,000 men in the field, and Greece 150,000.

Dulgaria, Servia and Montenegro are inhabited by Slav peoples. The language is very similar to the Russian, and the people are very similar. They are able to understand one another. Rumania is the largest and most prosperous of the Balkan countries. Rumania is the largest and most prosperous of the Balkan countries. Rumania is the largest and most prosperous of the Balkan countries.

During the time the allied armies were fighting before the Turkish line of fortis, but fifteen miles from Constantinople, excitement in the city was very intense. There were rumors that the Turks were driven back into the city and that the city would be captured. The people were very excited. The city was very excited. The city was very excited.

On one occasion a Russian battleship fired by mistake a shell into the city, striking the imperial palace. Immediately it was rumored that Russia had come to the aid of Turkey's enemies and the city was thrown into a panic. At another time a foreign warship approaching the city fired a salute of several guns. The report spread that the Turkish armies were being driven back toward the city and immediately shop windows were broken and all people disappeared from the streets.

The situation in the near-east changes from one day to the next and one not on the ground can hardly speak with accuracy. At the present time war between Greece and Turkey seems likely as the result of a dispute over the possession of islands in the Archipelago. Other European nations as well as the Balkans have suffered heavily from the war. The mobilization of troops by Russia and Austria on the borders at the time when war between them seemed imminent cost each country about $250,000,000. The American Tobacco Company was a heavy loser. It has large interests in Kavala, a rich tobacco growing region, and its losses are being felt.

NEW FEATURE CLASS AT EVENING SCHOOL

Theory and Actual Practice in Gas Engines to Be Taken Up—Class Limited to Members.

Those desiring to take up the practical and theoretical work in gas engines, had better register as soon as possible, for the demand for entrance into this class, when organized, will be unusually large. As many as fifty took up this work last year, but it will be hard to accommodate as many this year.

The class will be limited to a maximum of twelve members. There will be six engines, all of which will be of different styles, with two students working on one engine twice each week, at the regular class nights. The work will cover a period of six weeks, with possibly twelve lessons. E. J. Manning of this city will instruct in this course, and some real, actual practice, such as is necessary to automobile owners or garage men, working on gas engines, will be the program at each class.

This new class will in no way interfere with the present class in electricity, led by Prof. John A. Burthorn. When the electricity class has completed its course, gas engines will be taken up. Prof. C. F. Hill desires to have those expecting to take up this new course, to report for registration as soon as possible.

Last evening's millinery class was so overcrowded that another class will have to be organized, with another assistant.

Miss Elizabeth McCue, who has had charge of the typewriting class, has resigned, and her place has been taken by Miss Leora Westlake. The typewriting class is making great progress this year, as are the shorthand students.

The attendance last evening centered around the four hundred mark. The increase over the first night was fully doubled, and prospects for an attendance of five hundred or more, are exceedingly bright, with several new classes to be started shortly.

ELKS' INDOOR CIRCUS SUCCESS IS ASSURED

Four Hundred and Thirty Dollars Raised As Reserve Fund for Proposed Entertainment.

Last evening some thirty members of the Janesville lodge of Elks, met with the executive committee having charge of the proposed "Indoor Circus," to discuss ways and means and outline a plan for the proposed event which bids fair to be very successful. The committee, composed of Frank D. Hayes, chairman; Fred Baker and Thomas G. Murphy, have outlined plans for the affair and will make a formal report to the lodge at the next regular meeting, November 15th. As a result of last evening's meeting a guaranty fund of $430 was quickly raised to be held in reserve for use in case of emergency. W. B. Smith, who has had considerable experience in similar affairs, gave the meeting a talk which was very interesting and full of suggestions. The date for the affair has not yet been decided upon.

WOODCHUCKELEY.

Out on the golf grounds the other day a real live woodchuck stood up on a gravel knoll and winked at a couple of players going by. Now these players will not allow anything to interfere with their game, so they immediately took steps to chastise Mr. Woodchuck—anyway they were going to "wink him off" and one brave golfer advanced hurriedly with a stick expecting of course the woodchuck would act like a gopher and turn tail. No sir. He turned and faced the golfer and prepared for war. Never moved an inch, even when the reinforcement of more valiant golfers didn't phase Mr. Chuck; he stood his ground and continued to stand. So there being nothing else to do the golfers played golf. You never can tell how much chucking a woodchuck will stand.

Don't Let the Medicine Habit Drive You Through Life

When your stomach, liver or kidneys do not work right, you take a pill or two.

Stop and think! What makes any part of the body do its regular work? Your brain is the controlling center. The nerves carry the orders from the brain to all parts of the body. When your liver goes on a strike and gives you a good headache, don't blame your liver or brain. The nerve that carries the order is in trouble. The cause of that trouble is in your back. SPORT Snap-Shots

The life of a ball player is not always one sweet omelette of roses. Frequently things come up that make his daily stint a pretty hard one. Consider the experience of George "Dode" Paskert, the efficient outfielder of the Philadelphia Nationals. The past season on the diamond for George was just one bunch of hard luck after another and Paskert has breathed many a prayer that he shall never undergo such another. Paskert reported late in the season that he had been held back and kept in bed with a little dose of scarlet fever. Then a little later he wrenched his side in an exhibition game at Baltimore and was out of the game for a week or so. Having recovered nicely from this he went back and tore the ligaments of his right ankle in such a way that he wasn't able to play for several weeks. The next time it's his mitt. He broke the little finger of his right hand and wasn't able to touch a ball for five or six days. Along about three weeks before the season he managed to injure his groin in such a way that it was thought that he wouldn't ever be able to play ball again. As it is, a serious operation will be necessary before he will be able to enter the game next season. All of which makes up quite a list of misfortunes to meet up with in one short season.

The American league showed a big improvement in their fielding last season over that of the season previous, and should they continue to improve in like manner the American league fans will pass away from heart failure and sorrow. The witness brought on through the witnessing of half-raising fears. The American leaguers managed to make 64 more double plays in 1913 than they did in 1912. The Cleveland Naps were the leaders in this feature of the game, they alone making 128. The whole league made 876 double plays last season, as against 812 of the year before. The high mark for double plays in one game this year was when the Washington outfit made five double plays in one game. Gandi, Washington's first sacker, took part in more double plays than any other American leaguer, having been implicated in 39 of them, which same mark was made by Jack McInnis in 1912. Bush of Detroit and Chapman with the Naps are credited with having started more double plays than any one else, each of them having nailed the ball across for two. Two American league fielders are credited with double plays unassisted, these same being none other than Graney with Cleveland and Oldring with Philadelphia.

Larry McLean was thought to have been smiling sweetly upon by Dame Fortune when he was shipped to New York from St. Louis, thereby coming in for a bit of the world's series swag, but it begins to appear that such was not the fact. A more calm deliberation of the dope shows that as a matter of fact Larry actually loses money on the deal. About $50 worth of money, it's this way. The St. Louis owners having learned of Larry's love of libation and his occasional aptitude for going out and getting oiled up, offered him a good time, and where did he survive the season unimpaired by rum. At any rate, this is the rumor that is being bruited about and McLean doesn't contradict it. His share of the world's series change was $750. Had he stayed at St. Louis and stayed on top of the water cart he would have been $50 to the good at present. There is still a possibility that if McLean can convince the National commission about that St. Louis contract he will be able to recover yet.

Mike Donlin thought that Umpire Klem was only kidding when he was ordered from the field at Marlin, Tex. the other day and so he just grinned amiably at Klem. Mike figured that the world's tour was just a sort of a pleasure trip anyway, everyone supposed to have a good time, and where did Klem get that stuff about getting off the lot? So Mike looked at Klem rather amused-like and didn't make any offer to quit. And Klem raised his voice in anger, explaining in no uncertain terms that he meant what he said, and Mike was to beat it to the bench. And he stopped the game till Mike had done so. "This may be a joy ride around the globe," says Klem, "but the comedy stuff won't do as long as I'm handling the umpire." And Klem generally carries out what he says in things of this sort. The players will have to see the mark and play regular ball.

BADGER ATHLETICS ON A PAYING BASIS

Total Receipts for Past Year Exceeds Expenditures by $1,200—Football Pays Best.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—The total receipts of the athletic department of the University of Wisconsin during the school year 1912-1913 were $46,817.05 and expenses $45,617.04, leaving a profit of $1,200. These figures are from a report made public today by Director George W. Ehler. Football was by far the best paying sport, receipts being $37,096.76. Expenses in this department were $19,372.44.

Basketball receipts were $3,918.82 and expenses $2,763.07; baseball receipts $2,512.51, expenses $3,002.98. Golf activities incurred expenses of $52.50; rowing, $5,895.12; tobogganing, $374.48; track, $5,423.37.

The publication of the Wisconsin Athletic Bulletin was a losing venture financially, with a deficit of $2,027.73. The school year 1912-1913 was closed with a deficit of $6,379.65, so that the year, although comparatively small, is a source of gratification to the athletic authorities.

FOOTBALL NOTES. Larry Bankhead's Colquhoun team is a hummer. The eleven is fast, heavy and full of fight.

The return of Jimmy Craig to the Michigan eleven has strengthened the Wolverines at least fifty per cent.

Harry Williams has a contract to coach football at the University of Minnesota, that runs two more years.

Pogue, of the Illinois University eleven, is ranked as one of the great quarterbacks of the year in the West.

In case Cornish should not be able to play any more this year, Yale will be hard put for a first-class quarterback.

Streit, of the Princeton Tigers, and Brickley, of Harvard, are running neck-and-neck in the way of scoring touchdowns this fall.

For the past two years the Penn State team has had every team it tackled fated. But this season the "Statens" are sorely up against it.

The Cornell eleven is improving right along, and should be able to put out a rattling good contest in its annual combat with Pennsylvania.

Just to show how difficult it is to distinguish football players in action—"Pooch" Donovan, the Harvard trainer, was unable to pick out his own men in a recent game at Cambridge.

FRESHMEN LOSE TO SOPHOMORE ELEVEN

Second Year Men Win After Being Held on One Yard Line by Freshies.—Score is 14 to 0.

Playing vigorously until the final whistle was blown, the freshmen, although outclassed by the superior sophomores eleven, took the 14 to 0 defeat handed them in a creditable manner, for the second men realized after the tussle, that they had been forced to play real football.

The sophs scored in the first quarter on a pretty run by Mooney, who tore through his opponents for thirty-five yards, placing the ball directly beneath the posts. The try for goal failed.

During the second and third quarters, both elevens played even, in the third quarter, however, Richards aided his opponents in securing a safety, netting the second year men two more points. In place of punting from behind his goal line on the first play after the freshmen held the sophs on the one yard line, he touched the ball on the ground, instead of carrying it into playing territory.

In the last quarter Frank Lee, half-back for the sophs, took the ball on his own forty yard line, and ran sixty yards for the last score. An attempt at goal again failed. The game soon ended with the ball in the center of the field in the freshmen's possession. Score, sophomores 14, freshmen 0.

The stars of the game were many. The sophs played a good brand of football, and showed that they have great material for the regular eleven in years to come. Rau at guard tore holes almost at will. The backfield, composed of Spohn at quarter, Mooney and Lee, halves, and Cronin at fullback, possessed scored nearly before seen in a class game. The line played hard at all times.

The freshmen eleven, headed by Talbot Ryan, put up a scrappy game. Real players, for many times he tore through his heavier opponents for long gains. Brown at half gained good ground, while Ryan was good on end runs.

Lack of material among the seniors is delaying Captain Frick from organizing his eleven. The next game will be announced later.

The crowd at the game yesterday was almost as many as are present at a regular high school contest. The number reached nearly four hundred yesterday.

Something should be said of little "Billy" Kober, who played so well at quarterback. He ran the freshmen without a fault, and he intends to make the first high school eleven, before graduating. His clever tactics used in running the ball, proved a factor in yesterday's struggle.

BASEBALL CHATTER.

It is said the Western League magnates contemplate the dropping of Wichita and Topeka from the circuit. "Rabbit" Moranville and Tommy Griffith, of the Boston Braves, have "doubled up" for a season on the vaudeville stage.

Portland, winner of the Pacific Coast League pennant, won the season's series from every team in the league except Los Angeles.

Pitcher Johnson, who comes to the Red Sox from the Syracuse team, defeated both the Giants and the Red Sox in exhibition games last season.

Jimmy Johnston, of the San Francisco Seals, leads the Pacific Coast League base stealers with 123 pilfered sacks to his credit. He returns to the big top next season as a member of the Chicago Cubs.

WITH THE BOXERS. Jim Flynn, the Pueblo heavyweight, is in New York again looking for bouts.

Harry Lewis, the Philadelphia middleweight, who has been dangerously ill for several weeks, is now able to be out.

Aleck McLean, manager of Gilbert Gallant, is anxious to make his protégé against either Ad Wolgast or Matty Baldwin.

Tommy Maloney, of New York, who claims to be the welterweight champion of America, announces that he will defend the title against all comers at 141 pounds.

Strong Party Sentiment. "What are the duties of the office to which you desire appointment?" asked the official. "I haven't inquired into the duties," replied the applicant.

"But," he added rather reproachfully, "it was held by a Republican for years. And you oughtn't to have any doubt that what one of those Republicans can get by with a first class Democrat will be able to do with ease."—Washington Star.

FOOTBALL

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Slawh."

FOOTBALL, which becomes opposition then kicks goal, for which dome in September of each year, is all loses the ball and ten yards, and perpetual contest between the rules receives a warning.

This so heartens the other side that it fumbles the ball ten yards back of its own line and is given twenty yards by the referee on the ground that the left guard kicked an opponent while brushing past him. The attacking side now makes ten yards more by sitting on the ball and yelling for help, and ten yards when the center passes the ball over the full-back's head. Victory is now in sight, but unfortunately the attacking half-back now makes a 70-yard run and touchdown. For this his side loses the ball and 7 points, the quarter-back is ejected from the field, the business manager is conditioned in history B and the game is declared a draw on points.

Football is still inspiring to watch and is now a safe game, except as regards the officials, who must be men of great endurance and education. Too much time is now taken out to allow the umpire to keep his books and recover his wind, and it has been suggested that the game can be speeded up by allowing the officials to play while the players, who are in better physical condition any way, do their work.

THE BEAM AND THE MOTE.

It has long been the habit of Americans to express openly their opinions of sympathy for the revolutionists of European countries and their detestation of tyrants and arbitrary rulers. It appears to have become an inherent right of Americans to thus show their distaste for monarchical forms of government. The Christian Science Monitor, discussing this question, says:

"Hence a tradition has been created, and a habit as well, which often takes a turn that cannot be defended, as when either the United States congress or the department of state goes on record with words or acts that reflect upon the domestic and internal affairs of lands on continents where, by no stretch of imagination or the Monroe doctrine, can the United States have ought to say without being considered exceedingly officious and impertinent."

Were such official action by the United States always the outcome of spontaneous expression of popular indignation and championship of idealism, it would be easier to defend. Not infrequently it represents the feelings of only a fraction of the population, and is only agreed to by law-making and executive officials because of fear of the political consequences that would follow refusal. Realizing this to be true, European statesmen have discounted the representations made to them and have forgiven the officials who were the intermediary agents.

"Where conditions occasionally reversed—should the American public occasionally have brought to the fact that Britons, Frenchmen, Germans or Russians were holding mass meetings, passing resolutions, signing petitions and bringing pressure to bear upon parliaments to the end that judicial procedure in the United States might be bettered, graft stopped in the cities, and fewer lives summarily closed by acts of violence—then might come a sounder American view of American duty."

"With all the facts before it, the American public cannot be rightfully estopped from forming an opinion about conduct of men of whatever name or crime. It can voice that opinion through channels that are legitimate and that usually will touch the common thought of the nation subjected to such moral judgment. But there are limits to the censorship of other peoples' affairs, especially in the form of legislative dicta and diplomatic action."

BEILIS ACQUITTAL.

Freed by the Russian jury that tried him on the charge of a ritual murder, Mendel Beilis has been returned to his parents' home to tell of his two and a half years' imprisonment in a Russian prison. While freed by the jury, the moral effect of the long trial is far-reaching. The "Black Hundred," one of the most dreaded organizations of Russia, has again appeared and the anti-Semitic spirit is rampant. There was no real evidence against Beilis but his trial served its purpose, that of inciting outbreaks against the Jewish population of Russia. The jury acquitted him.

The accused was obscure enough. There was no personal malice against him in the prosecution. He was merely the handle by means of which it was hoped to convince an ignorant and backward community and people that ritual murders were real, not fabulous, and thus to inspire outbreaks and fan the flames of anti-Semitism in Russia.

But the "evidence" fell flat. It was palpably manufactured. An average Russian jury could not be convinced. Indeed, the pretext was so flimsy that even the leading anti-Semitic newspaper of Kiev, the community in which the trial took place, denounced it. The newspaper was farther sighted than the government and saw that the collapse of the case would probably cause a reaction and do much to dissipate the silly notion that Jews commit murders for religious reasons. The verdict may be a triumph of the world as a triumph of civilized thought over religious prejudice.

HOMES FOR AMBASSADORS.

Even in the days of true democracy, of Jeffersonian simplicity, of grape juice dinners of state, the question of owning suitable homes for our foreign representatives at the various courts of Europe, is bothering the administration at Washington. Thomas Nelson Page, American representative at Rome, has been forced to rent, at high rental, his official residence. Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, must pay some fifteen thousand out of his seventeen thousand dollar salary for his home in Germany's capital. It takes a rich man to be a foreign representative. Too often the riches and capability for representing the United States properly do not go together. If congress would appropriate money for the purchase of suitable embassies for its foreign diplomats instead of asking to beautify Washington at the expense of the taxpayers of the nation, it would be worth while.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

AN AMERICAN SIR PHILIP SIDNEY.

Unless you are an unusually close student of American history or perhaps a Virginian, with an ardent love of your state's story, you do not know of Thomas Mann Randolph.

Yet he deserves a place in every reader's memory for the kindly, chivalrous action which makes of him an American Sidney. Probably you remember Sir Philip Sidney, who, dying at the battle of Zutphen, gave his cup of water to another, saying, "Your need is greater than mine."

Thomas Mann Randolph was governor of Virginia in the years 1819 to 1821. Seven years later, riding along a road in inclement weather, he passed an aged, thinly clad man.

"Your need is greater than mine," said Governor Randolph, and he stripped from him the cloak which sheltered him from the weather. As a result of his action he died.

So passed away Thomas Mann Randolph, great of soul, wealthy, of high family and distinguished career. He was sixty years old, and his age might have excused his keeping his cloak. But in all likelihood the thought never entered his mind. He saw only the shivering man and gave him his cloak.

His action made him for all time a brother of Sidney and of the good Samaritan and of all those who have died since the world began that others might live.

Few, if any, of us are called upon to make so great a sacrifice. But all of us, as we pass along the road of life in our comfortable cloaks, see shivering by the roadside the aged, the feeble and the unfortunate.

Divide your cloak! There is an old fairy tale of a little girl who was left alone in the world, with only a few ragged garments to cover her. As she traveled from her home to seek shelter elsewhere she parted with her clothing, piece by piece, to others less fortunate than her own poor self, until night found her in a forest, shivering, but unafraid, clad only in her shining light of poverty and innocence.

But the angel of the Lord appeared and garbed her in shining garments and covered them with silver and with gold. Governor Randolph met death for doing his kindly deed. The little girl met life and wealth.

But perhaps—who knows?—the rewards were alike.

On the Spur of the Moment

A Wise Man.

There was a man in our town and he was a wise man. He knew just how and when and where to go and advertise.

He didn't seek the country fence and cover it with signs. To tempt the sturdy ruralite by telling of his lines. He didn't scatter dodgers 'round, the kind that blow away before the folks have time to read what he desired to say.

He went to see the editor and bought a lot of space. His ad went to the women folks, and that's the proper place.

The Diary of the Bonehead. Ever since we had the burglar scare in our neighborhood the neighbors have resorted to various devices for safety. Many bought automatic revolvers, the kind that shoot eighteen or twenty times before you are ready for them to shoot at all. Some placed various electric burglar alarms about their premises, but it remained for your uncle to get out of the difficulty with neatness and eclat.

I wrote to a friend of mine in the east and asked him to send me a burglar-eating bulldog. One morning not long after that, my wife telephoned me that the animal had arrived and that the expressman had turned him loose on the porch and she had gotten away on his wagon with great difficulty after leaving a portion of his trousers in the grip of my new dog.

My wife locked the front door so the dog couldn't get into the house and so he stayed on the porch.

He was the best watch dog I ever saw. When I arrived home that evening, he made a lunge at me when I started to turn in at my door and I thought better of it and walked right by. He growled and walked slowly back to the porch.

Three times that night I tried to outwit the bulldog and get into my own house but he was right on the job and once he got the southeast corner of my overcoat. I spent that night at the home of a neighbor. I couldn't get in the house and my wife couldn't get out. When the milkman arrived in the morning, he left suddenly with one pant leg in the possession of my dog.

My neighbors and I stood in the house next door and threw food over the wall through an upstairs window. The next day, I went and hunted up an expert burglar and paid him $5 to go and put my dog to sleep with a hickory club. While he was asleep, we crated him up and shipped him back to my friend in the east.

CATHOLICS CELEBRATE UNIVERSAL JUBILEE

Members of St. Patrick's Church Commemorate "Peace of Constantine"—Visiting Priests Assist.

In accordance with the wish of Pope Pius X, members of St. Patrick's parish are this week commemorating the "Peace of Constantine," that notable event sixteen centuries ago by which peace was finally given to the church. Masses are being held each day up to and including Thursday at five, six-thirty, seven and nine a. m. The earlier masses are being said to accommodate those desiring to observe the jubilee without interfering with their daily work. Assisting the Rev. Dean E. E. Reilly and the Rev. Father Mahoney in hearing the confessions are the Reverends Joseph Smith of Brookhead, Thomas Pierce of Sharon, T. P. Reilly of Milwaukee, W. P. McDermott of Evansville, and J. Buckley of Delavan.

The following is taken from the letter of Pope Pius concerning the jubilee:

BOARD TAKES A SLAP AT STATE INSURANCE

SUPERVISORS REVOKE ACTION TAKEN TWO YEARS AGO IN WHICH THEY ADOPTED STATE PLAN.

EXPENSE IS IMPROPER

Annual Premium of $504 Paid to State is Deemed Entirely Unnecessary—Provide Highway Repair Fund.

Indicating thorough dissatisfaction with the state plan of insuring county buildings against fire and tornado, the county board of supervisors this morning voted to revoke the action taken at the November meeting, 1911, in which they elected to come under the state system of insurance. The resolution to rescind was introduced by Supervisor E. C. Hopkins of Edgerton, chairman of the building committee, and was passed without opposition.

The question was raised, however, as to the right of the board to rescind their former action in this matter and it was pointed out that such revocation was within the power of the board. The state can hold the county to its insurance plan, until July 1, 1912, it was stated.

Former Effort Made. An effort was made a year ago to rescind the board's action but was balked by the understanding that such action was prohibited by the law providing for the state insurance plan. According to the building committee of the board was authorized to take any action which they deemed advisable to circumvent the state in its effort to hold Rock county to its insurance plan.

The fire insurance on the court house, county jail and county farm buildings was accordingly raised in the old line companies for a five period year to an amount which the committee considered was ninety percent of the fair value of the property in conformance with the law. The tornado insurance on the county farm buildings was also raised but it was not thought necessary to carry wind insurance on the court house, and as the risk was virtually nil.

State's Premium $504. The state appraisers were nevertheless sent down from Madison to investigate the Rock county situation, place their valuation on the county's buildings and fix their rate of insurance. They at once insured the jail and court house against tornado and found their ninety percent appraisal of the value of the county property much above the county's estimate of the value of the property.

The county is now carrying fire insurance in the stock companies as follows: County jail, $15,000; court house, $37,500; county farm buildings, $125,000. Tornado insurance on county farm buildings, $125,000. Most of these policies are for five year terms, thus giving the advantage of a lower rate.

Highway Repair Fund. The matter of the county highway repair fund, one of the major items before the special session of the board in September, was again brought up this morning and the board passed the resolution of Supervisor M. P. Richardson that the board should raise money from the state to be turned over to that fund and that in addition there shall be annually transferred to that fund from the general fund a sum not to exceed $500.

The resolution also provided for the emergency action taken by County Treasurer Livermore in using the automobile license funds received this year to pay repair bills without the previous sanction of the board. The sum of $1,550.82, uncollected personal property tax for the city of Janesville and the interest thereon for one year at six percent, was charged back to the city by a vote of the board.

It was explained, however, that several of the Janesville supervisors asked for information, that no other town, city or village in the county had reported any uncollected personal property taxes for the year 1912. Janesville having the uncomplimentary distinction. The amounts which were not paid are as follows, by wards: First ward, $375.80; second, $171.07; third, $283.71; fourth, $27.50; fifth, $27.50. Taxpayers of the city will make up this deficiency in their taxes this winter.

Farm Demonstrator Matter. On motion of Supervisor M. P. Richardson the matter of the county agricultural demonstrator was made a special order of business before the board at ten-thirty o'clock Thursday morning. Mr. Richardson explained that the Janesville Commercial club asked for a representation in regard to the question and would have a speaker present to address the supervisors.

The matter of salaries was given the attention by the board this morning and a committee composed of Supervisors Simon Smith, S. B. Hedges and E. C. Hopkins was appointed to determine the salaries for the county officers and the members of the board as provided for in Chapter 170, laws of 1913. The committee will report to the January meeting.

It is possible that the committee will recommend an advance in pay for the supervisors to $4 a day. The salary of Poormaster Asa P. Anderson was raised from $500 to $600 a year, beginning next year. Mr. Anderson was re-elected for a term of three years at the session of the board yesterday. A. M. Church was also named as trustee of the county asylum and poor farm.

The salary of the county highway commissioner was raised to $1,200 a year and traveling expenses in accordance with a new law which puts the salary at a basis of the amount of road work actually done in the county.

Asylum Appropriation. At the afternoon session of the board the annual appropriation for the county asylum and poor farm was made to the amount of $15,000.

A. M. Church of the board of trustees explained that the board had originally intended to ask for but $12,000, but owing to the fact that an entire new herd of cattle would probably have to be purchased, the present herd being afflicted with tuberculosis, the extra amount will be needed.

Mr. Church read the annual report of the trustees showing the conditions at the farm to be very satisfactory. The farm is doing very well, and the $8,500 for the year. Patients are well cared for. Superintendent D. M. Barless read this report to the board, including staistics in regard to patients and details of expenditures.

At the farm demonstration proposition Supervisor Richardson asked whether the county farm had had any advice from such an official and Mr. Church explained that there had been none except that given at the annual large picnic. Mr. Barless stated that Mr. Norford of the agricultural college had made three visits to the farm during the year, advising him on crops to be raised for the annual demonstration. All grain was raised from pedigree seed.

REASSESSMENT CASE TO SUPREME COURT

ROCK COUNTY TO TAKE STEPS TO SECURE $3,000 ITEM RETAINED BY STATE.

BOARD TAKES ACTION

Instructs District Attorney to Secure Immediate Settlement of Janesville Reassessment Tangle.

On the motion of Supervisor Simon Smith the county board late this afternoon instructed the district attorney to take immediate action to settle the Janesville reassessment cost tangle into which Rock county has been dragged by the state authorities.

Mr. Dunwiddie, who was called before the board, explained the situation declared that there was no question but that the board would get the amount which had been withheld by the state, the item being some $3,000. He proposed that the matter be taken before the state supreme court as soon as possible where a final decision would be arrived at by which the parties concerned would be irrevocably bound.

The reassessment of the city of Janesville was completed late in 1911 and in the tax levy against the county sent from the secretary of state to the county clerk in 1912 the special charge against the city of Janesville for the cost of the reassessment was included. The city refused to pay and as a result the state withheld from funds due Rock county in the automobile license money, the amount of the item.

Mr. Dunwiddie stated that he had conferred with City Attorney Dougherty and Mayor Fathers on the proposition and that they had agreed to take up the matter with the attorney general. After explaining the situation to the attorney general that official finally consented to place the facts directly before the supreme court if the city attorney and district attorney would file their statements with him. The entire matter would then rest with the court.

This procedure, which was endorsed by the board, will save the county as well as the city the expense of litigation in the circuit court, and will mean that a final and binding decision will be secured very shortly. The only question for the county was from which party, the city or the state, was their recompense due. Mr. Dunwiddie declared that he held the state was liable to the county and had so stated in his case to the attorney general. In any event the county is bound to be reimbursed from one source or another.

FOURTH WARD LADIES HAVE CLEAN-UP DAY

Take Advantage of the Fine Weather and Have Yards and Gutters Cleaned.

All credit to the residents of the Fourth Ward who devoted some hours Tuesday afternoon to cleaning up the yards and gutters in preparation for the winter months. To Mrs. Dan Luby, vice president for the ward of the Civic League, especial credit is due as it was her idea, and the ready response of the residents betokens a civic spirit that has not often been demonstrated in the city.

Not only were the leaves and refuse cleaned from the gutters, but they were burned and the smoke that arose from the various signal fires swept heavenward as a sacrifice to the gods of cleanliness. In all of the five grade schools in the wards, the Garfield, Webster, Lincoln, Lincoln, St. Joseph's convent, and St. John's parochial school, the announcement was made during yesterday's sessions urging a general cleaning up.

Given at the high school, the announcement and the ready response to the appeal showed the spirit of the residents in making their ward the banner ward of the city as far as progressive methods for cleaning up goes. There was a spirit of rivalry between various sections in the ward and now the spirit has spread throughout other wards and there is talk of a general cleaning up of all streets and gutters by the property-owners without waiting for the dilatory tactics of the city's street cleaning department.

PLACE REINFORCING FOR CONCRETE ARCH

Second One in Milwaukee Street Bridge Will Probably be Cast Tomorrow—Finish Driving Piles.

Workmen of the Gould Construction company were engaged today in placing the metal reinforcing for the second arch of the new Milwaukee street bridge which will probably be poured tomorrow. The reinforcing, longitudinally are fifty-eight feet long and the total weight of the reinforcing is about twelve tons. Some 1,400 sacks of cement, or about one and a half carloads, will be required for the concrete.

The last of the piles for the east abutment of the bridge were driven today and the derrick at that point having practically completed its work, will soon be dismantled and shipped to Galena.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Women's Reason. Women have more of what is termed good sense than men. They cannot reason wrong, for they do not reason at all. They have fewer pretensions, are less implicated in theories, and judge of objects more from their immediate and involuntary impression on the mind, and therefore more truly and naturally.—Hazlitt.

TUBERCULAR EXHIBIT IS HERE ON FRIDAY

Under Auspices of the Janesville Anti-Tuberculosis Society.—Open to the Public.

Through the enterprise of the Janesville Anti-Tuberculosis Society, the state health exhibit of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and the university extension division, will be shown in Janesville this coming Friday and Saturday, November 14th and 15th. The city hall has been chosen as the place where the exhibit will be on display.

Janesville is the fourth city in the state to receive this new health exhibit, pronounced the most complete ever offered to the people of Wisconsin. This exhibit has just come from a trip through Oshkosh, Burlington and La Crosse. Great crowds saw it in each of these towns. In La Crosse, the exhibit was shown for four days during the Conference of Charities and Corrections, and was well over the three months because the demand for it was so strong.

Every effort has been made to place before the public, demonstrations of good health and bad health, by means of charts, screens, pictures, models, etc. There are sections devoted to infectious diseases, sickness of children, infant mortality, care of babies, nursing food and milk supply, and other vital subjects of health.

One display of particular interest is the showing up of quack doctors, fake cures, poisonous soothing syrups and consumption cures which never cure. There are over five hundred consumption cure takers in the United States, it is said, and these quacks have made a profit of $50,000,000 during the past five years.

One of the most popular models in the exhibit is the miniature state tuberculosis sanatorium at Waes—a model constructed by a tuberculosis patient. There are also models of model homes, model factories and the bad conditions in contrast.

Friday and Saturday nights, besides the exhibit, there will be brief lectures by health specialists from Milwaukee. The speakers accompanying the exhibit are: Miss Margaret Salisbury of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, a worker of wide experience in school hygiene and the health of children; Paul W. Black, director of the university extension division, designer and director of the exhibit; Alvin C. Reis, lecturer for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and university extension division.

The exhibit and lectures are free.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat
BY RUTH CAMERON

From the Diary of a Grandmother: Being a few extracts from the diary of a grandmother who visits her daughter and her four grandchildren for the first time.

GRANDMOTHER DISCOVERS SOMETHING ABOUT THE COST OF BRINGING UP A MODERN CHILD.

"WHEN I went down to lunch this noon, I found Janet and her mother having a heated argument—yes, children and their parents argue nowadays—about some green silk stockings. It seems that a certain very bright green in 'the thing' at school this year, and no school girl looks right unless she has touches of it all over her. Janet wears enormous green hair-ribbons and a green bow on the front of her checked dress. Now she wants her mother to buy her a pair of green silk stockings. Her mother objected on the ground of their loud appearance, and Janet silenced her by citing several of the nicest girls who wore them. Then her mother objected on the ground of expense. 'But I can get a good pair at T.'s for only a dollar,' was Janet's answer to that. I wondered when I first came why in spite of Richard's excellent salary Margaret always seems to be worrying about bills. I begin to understand now. Janet has several pairs of silk stockings, and even little Ruth has a pair or two for dancing school. Janet always wears silk petticoats with her dress-up clothes and I heard her scolding the other day because her mother thought a common petticoat was good enough for school wear."

"When Margaret was a girl I think we dressed her about as well as any girl in town, and she never had a silk petticoat until she had her trousseau. When she was eighteen, her aunt gave her her first pair of silk stockings, and I remember how excited she was about them. My own first silk stockings were my wedding pair. Times certainly have changed. No wonder Richard fumes over his bills. Janet's and Ruth's hair-ribbons, alone, cost a dollar and a quarter a set, and Ruth has lost one of hers twice since I have been here. I'm sure she is glad the baby is a boy because his clothes will not cost so much. It seems a queer reason for wanting a son, and yet in the light of all I've learned I can quite understand it."

"But even boys are not particularly inexpensive in these times. A day or two ago, Richard asked his father for eight dollars for a football suit. His mother was afraid of his getting hurt, but his father was so amused and pleased at the idea of the little shaver belonging to an eleven that he gave him the money without a protest, although I had heard him blaming Margaret the day before because the house bills were so large. Imagine it! Eight dollars smack out for a football suit! When my boys were young their football suits were homemade and eight dollars was the price of a good store suit."

"The children have ample pocket money but they are always asking for money for extras. Now it's a class pin, again it's a dollar to contribute to ward a present for Richard's teacher, who is going to get married; and again, it's two or three dollars for dues for Janet's sorority. Yes, diary, they have these in high schools nowadays. I know we used to think they were sacred to college life."

"I ventured to say something to Margaret about all this expense and she seemed quite indignant and asked me if I wanted my grandchildren to be taken off from other 'nice children' because they couldn't have things like them. Of course I said no, but I can't help wondering if there are no 'nice' girls and boys whose fathers can't afford all these things. If parents with a small income try to keep up this pace it is no wonder there are now so many nervous breakdowns."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Do not throw away the vinegar in which home-made cucumber pickles have been preserved. Keep it and use it in salad dressing, instead of the ordinary vinegar. The flavor is delicious, and one that can not be gained in any other way.

Grated white potato scattered over fine carpets and then swept up with a clean broom will freshen their color.

To peel apples quickly and easily pour boiling water over them. The skins will then come off easily.

To remove the stains from fire-proof dishes which have become brown from baking, soak them in strong borax and water.

THE TABLE.

Raised Waffles—One and three-quarter cups of milk, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of butter, one-fourth yeast cake, one-quarter cup of lukewarm water, two cups of flour, yolks of two eggs, whites of two eggs. Scald the milk; add the salt and butter, and when lukewarm, add the yeast cake dissolved in water, and flour. Beat well for five minutes; add the yolks of the eggs well beaten, and the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Cook on a greased hot griddle. Salmon Souffle—One-third can of salmon, one quart of scalded milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, four tablespoonfuls of flour, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, few grains of pepper.

Drain the oil from the salmon, remove the skin and bones, rub through a sieve. Add gradually the milk, season, and bind.

Fish Stuffing—One-half cup of cracker crumbs, one-half cup of stale bread crumbs, one-quarter cup of melted butter, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, few drops of onion juice, one-quarter cup of hot water. Mix the ingredients in the order given.

Boiled Cabbage—Take off the outside leaves, cut in quarters, and remove the tough stalk. Soak in cold water and cook in an uncovered vessel in boiling salted water, to which add one-fourth teaspoonful of soda; this prevents a disagreeable odor during cooking. Cook from thirty minutes to one hour, drain and serve; or chop and season with butter salt and pepper.

Cheese Balls—One and one-half cups of grated mild cheese, one tablespoonful of flour, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, few grains of cayenne, whites of three eggs, cracker dust. Mix the cheese with the flour and seasonings. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and add to the first mixture. Shape in small balls, roll in cracker dust, fry in deep fat and drain on brown paper. Serve with salad course.

Coffee Custard—Two cups of milk, two tablespoonfuls of ground coffee, three eggs, one-quarter cup of sugar, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoonful of vanilla. Scald the milk with the coffee and strain. Beat the eggs slightly, add the sugar, salt, vanilla and the milk. Strain into buttered individual moulds, set in a pan of hot water and bake until firm.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

A MEAL should be regarded as an important end in itself. It should be taken at leisure, body and mind being, for the time being, given up to it, and to agreeable, social intercourse.

DELICIOUS DESSERTS.

A beautiful dessert may be prepared by molding plain vanilla ice cream in baking powder cans, and when ready to serve cut in slices, putting a preserved berry on each slice; surround with raspberry syrup.

Orange Meringue—Add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch to four tablespoonfuls of sugar, and when blended add a pint of boiling water, and cook for ten minutes. Add the juice of two lemons. Peel three oranges, cut them in slices and lay them in a deep dish. Pour the hot sauce over them, make a meringue with the whites of three eggs and three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Spread this over the top and brown in the oven. Garnish with quarters or sections of orange, and serve very cold.

Spanish Sponge—To a pint of orange juice or a cup of juice and one of water, add a half box of gelatin which has been softened in a little water. Sweeten to taste and add the grated rind of one orange. Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff, and add the orange juice gradually; beat about five minutes. Thoroughly chill a mold and pour in the sponge mixture. Line the mold with sections of orange and when serving accompany with a lemon custard made with the yolks of the eggs.

Peach Sherbet—Put one pound of sugar and two cups of water in a sauce pan and cook for twenty minutes; cool and add one and a half cups of peach pulp, the juice of an orange and the juice of half a lemon.

Mush melon cut in cubes, sprinkled with powdered sugar, lemon juice and a grating of nutmeg is a most tasty dessert when chilled and served in small glass dishes.

Queer Rowing Costumes. English rowing men a century ago wore costumes far different from what they wear now. In 1805 it was the correct thing for them to wear a green leather catskin cap with a jacket and trousers of nankeen. In the first university race at Henley in 1829 Oxford wore wearing blue checks, while Cambridge was in white with pink waistcoats. Broad brimmed heavy straw hats came in a little later.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson—(1) Do you think it nice of a young man to ask a girl to kiss him if he is engaged to another girl?

(2) Is it wrong to kiss him if you love him but know that he is engaged to another girl?

(3) Do men ever break engagements with girls?

(4) I am in love with a young man who has told me that he is engaged to another girl. He says that he likes me. Ought I to try and give him up, or do you think he will ever love me more than anybody else?

(5) Is it right for a girl to give her boy friends pictures of herself?

(6) What are the prettiest colors for a girl with grey eyes and brown hair?

(1) I do not. He is something of a cad. (2) It is very wrong. How would you like it if you were engaged to a man and some other girl kissed him because she loves him?

(3) Yes—and often they wish they hadn't. (4) He probably likes you fairly well, but he loves the other girl or he wouldn't be engaged to her. He told you he was engaged to the other girl so you would not have any designs on him. Better make up your mind that he is not for you.

(5) It is not wise. Boys like to make collections of girls' pictures and show them to other boys as evidence of their heart-smashing ability. (6) A girl with grey eyes and brown hair can wear almost any color except the very bright ones.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of twenty-three. People consider me rather good looking. I have a good home and plenty of spending money, but I am unhappy because my friends are all getting married and my own love affairs have turned out very badly. Now please tell me how a bashful girl is to get a beau? I am extremely nervous and bashful.

CLOVER. In the first place, dear girl, don't worry because your friends are marrying and you are not. You may be the happiest one of them all if you do not marry. It is a very mistaken idea to think that one must marry just for the sake of keeping up with one's friends. A girl need not take any old thing in trousers when she feels, like that, when she ought to be more particular about a husband than about anything else on earth. You ought to be more charming with every year added to your age. Make up your mind that you are going to be pleasant, interesting and good to look at, and men will be attracted to you. Forget about your self as much as possible when talking with men. Interest yourself in their whims and hobbies. Invite them to pleasant little home suppers, if you can. Don't let them think that you are fishing for a husband. First thing you know you'll be asked to be somebody's wife—and then take him, if he's the right one.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I have been corresponding with a young man for the past seven months. He has not replied to my last letter, and I would like to know what to do, as I loaned him one of my pictures for as long as we wrote to each other.

There is no doubt but what he received my letter as he told my brother he did, and intended to answer, but so far I have not heard from him.

(1) If he writes should I answer? If so please tell me what to say in regard to his delay in writing.

(2) If a man has the name of being cruel to his horses, is that a sign he will be cruel to his wife?

MARY. (1) There may be a good reason for the delay, and the letter may have been written and in some way gone astray. If he has been a good friend for seven months, give him the benefit of the doubt. If you know, for a certainty, that he does not wish to write to you any more, ask him to return your picture. If he writes you again, say nothing about the delay in your reply, unless it was caused by something that is important enough to comment upon.

(2) I do not think that a man can be trusted if he is to cruel to any living thing.

EXPERIMENTS WILL ASSURE SUCCESS IN DEEP FRYING

Every housekeeper wants to know how to do this exact temperature of fat for deep frying. So also wants to know the foods which are best fried in this manner and how it can be done so as to have the food come from it dry, crisp and perfectly digestible.

There is much to learn all at once but with a determination never to be satisfied with anything less than "exactly right," and being willing to find out what is wrong each time frying is done and work toward its correction, there is no reason why there should be this uncertainty about trying in deep fat.

In these days of careful study of foods we do know that fats must be healthful and all cooking which includes fat in it has to stand careful scrutiny from the health expert. If she is persuaded to buy it. There was a time when she took whatever the grocer said was good. Today she asks "why" vegetable fat is better than animal fat, which she has used for years, and again she must be thoroughly convinced that it is economical. So we would say first for deep fat frying must be first healthful, second economical. Then we give it properly and with reliable recipes and food should be good to look at and healthful for eating.

This is a very reliable test: Heat the fat until a small piece of bread becomes a golden brown in sixty seconds for a raw dough mixtures such as doughnuts and fritters. For seconds for cooked mixtures such as croquettes and codfish balls, etc.; twenty seconds for French fried potatoes.

FRUIT FRITTERS These are delightful to serve with meats and poultry. The recipe for batter for fritters follows:

Material—Eggs, two; milk or tepid water, one-half cup; bread flour, one cup; salt, one-fourth teaspoonful; olive oil, one teaspoonful.

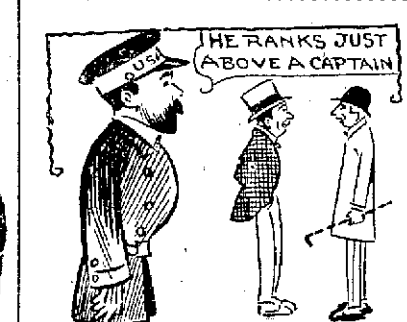

Directions—Beat the eggs, add the milk or water. Turn this slowly onto the flour and salt, which have been well sifted together. Cover and let stand in a cold place an hour or two, or over night will do no harm. Then add the stiffly beaten whites and a teaspoonful of sugar if fruits are used.

Prepare fruits as directed below and let stand half an hour or more: dip in the batter and fry in the deep fat according to given directions:

Apples—Peel, core and slice six apples in one-fourth inch slices cross-wise. Cover with two tablespoonfuls powdered sugar and one-half teaspoonful cinnamon mixed. Sprinkle with one tablespoonful lemon juice.

Bananas—Peel and scrape the coarse fiber off the bananas. Slice lengthwise in about three slices and cut in two. Sprinkle with a little currant sugar and lemon juice.

Oranges—Peel and separate the

Every Day Talks for Every Day People
By FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.

The season of winter is almost upon us. Many a mother looks forward to it with apprehension, wondering how she is going to clothe all the children comfortably yet so as to look like the other children.

There's the rub. "To look like other children" is sometimes a big proposition, and yet if a woman is deft-fingered it is no monumental task; rather it gives one a keen satisfaction to remake or fashion from an old gown that has still much to recommend it in color and texture, a dress or little suit for one of the smaller children.

Do you ever dye? Homes there are, wherein the wise mother has her "dyeing" days each spring and fall. Clothes that are faded, but of good material, dresses that are light colored and have served their time, still are really too good to discard; the faded hair ribbons, and in fact most anything that looks dingy from too many washings—all these are excellent material for the dye-pot. They can be dyed in a way that sounds like an ad for dyes, but it isn't.

To dye successfully one should follow the directions to the letter. Where many of us fail is that we try to color too many pieces with one package of dye. If we use enough dye, and boil the material long and briskly enough, the results will be all that the most particular woman could desire.

Is it necessary to say never put woolen and cotton fabrics together? There is dye for each and if you want a piece a deep shade, use more dye than is called for; this is especially so in red dyes.

Another point to remember is to put in plenty of salt, as it sets the color. The amount called for on the package can be ignored, and a generous amount poured into the dye-pot. Don't be afraid you'll overdo it; you can't take out and rinse thoroughly the last thread is worth so don't forget to boil briskly and long enough.

One can use their wash-bowler for dye purposes as it can be readily cleaned as soon as the material dyed has been taken out and rinsed thoroughly, then clean the boiler at once and it will be none the worse for serving the purpose of a dye-vat.

Relief From Constipation.

It's Me For Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No griping, is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—a sick headache—torpid liver—or are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just before bed. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, O.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

Take "Pape's Diapiesin" and in five minutes you'll wonder what became of misery in stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches, belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you'll wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and acts things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

CARRIERS KEPT BUSY WITH PARCEL POST

Postoffice Department Compels Record of Rural Mail During Month of October.

During the month of October of this year, the nine rural carriers employed at the Janesville postoffice delivered 78,832 pieces of mail weighing a total of 11,735 pounds. These statistics are the result of an investigation made by the postoffice inspectors in order to establish a correct table of the amount of mail carried and delivered into the rural districts.

Since the parcel post system became effective it has been of considerable interest to ascertain the increase of mail matter that the rural men distribute and collect. October is considered as only a moderate month for the mail men and because of the light amount of business, the officials decided on this period to lessen the work of the employees.

In the first-class mail matter, consisting of letters and postal cards, the nine rural carriers delivered 23,066 pieces weighing 457 pounds, and collected 12,896 pieces weighing 328 pounds. Business in second class matter, circulars and advertising, the carriers delivered 43,778 pieces weighing 8,649, and collected only 105 pieces weighing 29 pounds.

The third class newspapers and periodicals showed that the Janesville men distributed 11,043 pieces weighing 1,174 pounds. Under the fourth or parcel post list, the farmers made use of the system to send 258 packages weighing 628 pounds, and the carriers delivered 774 parcels weighing 1,425 pounds. Frank or free mail that the United States government sends without postage, amounted to 192 pieces weighing 28 pounds.

The fourth class, credited the men with receiving 14,776 pieces weighing 1,829 pounds. In delivering mail, 78,832 pieces of mail were given citizens in the local rural district weighing 11,735 pounds. During the month, 93,622 pieces were handled weighing 13,594 pounds.

Patrons of the rural routes are asked to co-operate with the desire of the postoffice department in that all first-class mail matter shall be stamped with letters and cards are placed into the mail box. When this is not in practice, coins left in the mail box for the purchase of the necessary stamps should be deposited in a receptacle and not enclosed in the envelopes, wrapped in paper or left loose in the box, as it causes great trouble to the collectors to pick up the money in the small box, necessitating a delay that hinders efficient service.

SOCIETY WILL WAGE CAMPAIGNS AGAINST USELESS PRESENTS

Societies To be Formed in All Parts of Country—Mrs. August Belmont is President.

A country-wide appeal for the abolition of the useless Christmas gift and a plea for intelligent and thoughtful giving instead of the wasteful custom of giving presents was made in New York last night by Mrs. August Belmont, president of the Spugs, at the opening meeting of the 1913 campaign against the custom of giving useless presents.

At this meeting the membership rolls of the Spugs—the Society for the prevention of Useless Giving—were read to all residents of the United States who might want to enroll against the foolish Christmas gift.

Having grown from a handful to more than 5,000 within a few weeks during the last Christmas season, the Spugs have outlined a plan for a national campaign and hope to establish societies in all cities and towns throughout the country.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman presided at last night's meeting. District Attorney Whitman, newly enrolled as a member, and Francis Crownshield delivered addresses. Mrs. Belmont was the orator of the evening.

The original purpose of the society she said, was to prevent the giving of useless presents by girls in stores and factories to their employers, the custom of collective giving which the girls felt they could not afford but which they could avoid without embarrassment and possible loss of their positions.

This was one of the chief objects of the society, she added, but not the only one. Another prime attainment sought, she said, was a general cultivation of the habits of giving, of more thoughtfulness and expression of personality in making Christmas gifts.

"We do not disapprove of collective giving when it is done on the spur of the moment," she said, "or for some particular cause, because then it means that you have collected a sense of human fellowship of which the money collected is but an expression."

"We do approve of it when it is for the man higher up."

"Some persons think that we oppose giving. Far from it; we do not oppose giving, but we advocate intelligent giving, that is done with the spirit of goodwill as distinguished from giving that is compulsory, from fear or with the hope of obtaining reward—whether that reward be the favor of the man higher up or the approval of the crowd."

"The world at large should put more of the Christmas spirit into giving. Christmas should be a time for every person to do his or her share."

"Some folks say to us, 'Of course, you want to promote useful giving.' The word useful has many changes of meaning. Usually when one thinks of a useful present, it is a present decidedly middle-class or commonplace."

"So we do not attempt to promote useful giving in the commonly accepted definition of that word. This thing we are really out to do is to abolish something. We feel that when we have done that there will follow good sense and that everybody will be profited thereby."

"We propose to decrease the cost of the gift and increase the good will to make the heart of Father Christmas rejoice by little acts of kindness. We do not intend to deprive anybody of the gift we sent our dear ones. Give generously; but from your heart, with all your thought. Don't make a business of giving, make it an art. Don't waste what should be a season of goodwill freely given."
